We have just booked our villa in Menorca for June 2020 and the four of us cannot wait to return. This is our third time! We were recommended Vintage Travel by a friend who uses the company on a regular basis and gave them high praise. The staff are very professional and seem to know every villa in all of the countries they use. It made it so much easier the first time because we were not sure of exactly where to go. They asked our requirements and we ended up with those and more. Thank you Vintage Travel.

OUR SERVICE
It’s good to know you are in experienced hands when booking your villa holiday. You can be sure that their personal and knowledgeable service will help you create your best holiday ever.
Our travels have taken us across the length and breadth of Spain’s varied regions, over its wide plains and imposing ‘sierras’, through charming villages, historic cities, and along an extensive coastline of dramatic scenery and hidden coves. It is however the picturesque scenery and hidden coastlines of Catalunya, Andalucía, Galicia and Valencia that have captured our attention.

In the north east, the pine-clad hillsides that tumble down into idyllic coves draw ‘aficionados’ of Catalunya back to its shores time and time again. Further south, in the region of Valencia, the heady aroma of orange blossom wafts along a coastline of white sands from the abundant groves that lie behind. In the west, it is the Caribbean-like sandy beaches and historic cities that make Galicia such a favoured destination, whilst in the southerly climes of Andalucía café terraces line the palm-filled squares of dazzling white ‘pueblos blancos’ and seemingly endless golden sands line the shores.
THE CITIES OF ANDALUCÍA

Silhouetted against vast plains of neatly ordered groves of olive and fruit trees, Andalucía’s principal cities are not to be missed. Islamic arches, breathtaking palaces and hidden inner patios of abundant carnation pots create the atmospheric scenes to be found in the historic centres of Granada, Sevilla, Córdoba and Ronda to name but a few.

THE BEACHES OF CATALUNYA

It is easy to see why artists have been drawn to the Costa Brava’s picturesque shores for so many centuries. In this north eastern pocket of Catalunya, pine-clad hillsides tumble down to the water’s edge into idyllic bays of crystal clear Mediterranean that are perfectly explored by boat or on foot via a scenic coastal path.

THE ORANGE GROVES OF VALENCIA

A wander along the white sands of the Valencian coastline will frequently be accompanied by the heady scent of orange blossom, which emanates from the abundant groves that hug the shoreline. At the same time, the region’s world famous paellas simmer gently alongside the catch of the day in shady ‘chiringuitos’ to tempt the hungry onlookers.

FESTIVALS

The exuberance and traditions of Spain are never more evident than at festival time. Festas in honour of the ‘Virgen del Carmen’ take place on Andalucía’s Costa de la Luz; on the eve of Sant Joan the Catalans light bonfires and enjoy a traditional after-dinner dessert of ‘coca’ with a glass of cava. In the region of Valencia exquisite costumes are paraded through the streets and a fierce battle is enacted to commemorate the invasion of the Moors. In Galicia dancers fill the streets of mountain villages to celebrate each local festival.

MARKETS

Mingle with the locals amongst the lively stalls that fill village and town squares on market day and discover locally produced handicrafts and delicacies: colourful ceramics in the Catalan pottery centre of La Bisbal, freshly steamed ‘pulpo’ (octopus) in the fishing villages of Galicia and locally woven rugs in the mountains of the Andalucían Alpujarras.

THE SEAFOOD OF GALICIA

The fjord-like ‘rías’ lining the spectacularly indented coastline of Galicia’s Rías Baixas are beautifully sheltered and their calm waters are the source of some of the finest seafood in Spain. It is therefore not surprising to see menu boards displaying ‘ostras’ (oysters), ‘mejillones’ (mussels) and ‘vieiras’ (scallops), the freshness of which has to be seen to be believed.

Sparkling aquamarine waters and sandy beaches are never far from our island properties, making these destinations an ideal choice for a holiday by the sea. The Balearic Islands of Mallorca and Menorca and the Canary Island of Lanzarote exude a charm that leaves their visitors wanting to return year after year.

Scenic lanes wend their way through undulating countryside to hidden coves and sandy beaches, quaint villages and picturesque fishing ports hum with the sounds and sights of local life and traditional fiestas are maintained with colour and exuberance. For those seeking more tropical environs and an enviable climate for holidays all year round, Lanzarote’s varied coastline offers something for everyone, from bustling resorts to secluded coves, whilst in its tranquil interior rolling countryside encircles flower-bedecked villages.
MALLORCA’S MILLS
Mills have been an important economic part of the Mallorquin landscape for centuries, some pumping water, others grinding cereals. Many have disappeared whilst others have been restored as loyal companions to the island’s cultural heritage, standing tall in their bright blue and white coats, silhouetted against the bright sky.

THE COASTLINE OF MENORCA
Circumnavigating some 220km of stunningly picturesque coastline, the recently restored Camí de Cavalls offers walkers, cyclists and horse riders the most wonderful views and access to Menorca’s maritime gems. Follow the signs to this footpath or simply drive along the country lanes to discover sheltered coves of turquoise blue.

THE CLIMATE OF LANZAROTE
“I wish there were a month when I could feel chilly and put on a jumper”. This is a phrase frequently uttered by our hosts in Lanzarote, whose island is bathed in over 2500 hours of sunshine every year and enjoys an annual average temperature of 22˚C. It makes it an ideal destination for winter breaks.

DRAMATIC LANDSCAPES IN LANZAROTE
Lanzarote’s status as a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve recognises the uniqueness of its dramatic landscape. Here you will discover the spectacular volcanic scenery of the Timanfaya National Park, the neatly ordered vineyards of La Geria and pristine whitewashed villages that glow with the bright blooms of flower filled balconies and palm lined squares.

OUR HIGHLIGHTS
We returned two hours ago from our first trip with yourselves to Menorca! This was our 19th visit to the island. From the moment we paid the holding fee last year for the villa the level of service we received from you has been exceptional! Thank you! The villa was immaculate, pool wonderful, garden glorious. Thank you for letting us hire such a beautiful villa. We will be back next year!

SLEEPS 6 • 3 BEDROOMS • 3 BATHROOMS • AIR CONDITIONING • WIFI • TOWN HOUSE • BEACH 7KM • RESTAURANT 300M

Comfort and convenience are not often found in such great measure. Hidden in a backstreet behind a classically unprepossessing Mallorcan façade, this gorgeous three storey town house enjoys a marvellous location in the very heart of Pollença. Inside, the largely open plan accommodation flows elegantly across three levels. Sliding doors invite you into a compact courtyard at the rear where there is a dedicated barbecue house and excellent privacy to enjoy cooling dips in the plunge pool before relaxing either on the adjacent sun terrace or the first floor sun terrace. Each of the three bedrooms has its own en-suite facilities and all are tastefully furnished and decorated (an impressive four poster bed graces the principal bedroom). All amenities including many excellent restaurants are within walking distance.

Traces of the love and care invested in the restoration can be seen throughout and a stone clad terrace offers shade over a summer kitchen, promising memorable evenings dining al fresco. Another wonderful holiday with Vintage. This is our fourth booking and all have been perfect. Your standards are extremely high and for us knowing we will not be disappointed means we always book with confidence. Thank you Vintage. We’ll be back!

J. Bennett, La Tierra Buena, Mallorca
Situated at the western end of Iberia where the land ends and the sea begins, Portugal has so much to offer: a dramatic shoreline of stunningly unspoilt beaches, quaint fishing villages, medieval walled towns, castles galore, vineyards producing exquisite local wines and charming people from whom a warm welcome can always be assured.

The two regions we feature offer distinct landscapes and their own unique personalities. In the north-western corner, local life evolves in a delightfully unhurried way in the stone villages, lush wooded landscape and sandy shores of the Costa Verde. Occupying the southernmost province, bustling resorts and charming fishing villages can be found along the Algarve’s dramatic shoreline, whilst typical villages and traditional market towns nestle amongst the almond groves that cover the hillsides above.
Moledo, Costa Verde and Minho

SIGHTSEEING FROM THE RIVER MINHO
Separating the northernmost tip of Portugal from the Spanish region of Galicia, the River Minho winds its way through a lush landscape of wooded hills and neatly ordered vineyards. Admire the stunning landscapes of these two neighbouring countries from a boat trip or have a go at wakeboarding and simply enjoy being on the water!

THE UNSPOILT BEACHES OF THE COSTA VERDE
Sweeping sandy beaches stretch as far as the eye can see in the beautifully unspoilt north western corner of Portugal. Backed by dunes, wooded countryside and traditional fishing villages, this picturesque coastline offers open stretches of water for surfers, sheltered inlets for bathing and a delightful sense of calm even in the height of summer.

THE HERITAGE OF THE CITY OF PORTO
Multi-coloured houses rise up the hillside in a delightful labyrinth of narrow cobbled streets, steep alleys and mosaic pavements in the ancient centre of Porto. Down below on the other side of the river, port lodges line the waterfront and offer a fascinating insight into tastings of the region’s most famous product.

THE FABULOUS COASTLINE OF THE ALGARVE
Lined with dramatic cliffs, pretty coves and long stretches of golden sands, the Algarve’s beautiful and diverse coastline can claim to be one of Europe’s finest. Over 70 accredited Blue Flag beaches offer the highest standards of water quality and facilities to make this one of Europe’s best beach destinations.

GAstronomy on the Algarve
A rich maritime history coupled with the ever present Atlantic ocean has led the Portuguese to develop a cuisine that is rich in seafood and fish dishes. This is clearly evident on the Algarve where local eateries offer a delicious choice of freshly made specialities such as fish cataplana, monkfish rice or flavoursome grilled sardines.

OUR HIGHLIGHTS
Casa da Gale exceeded our expectations. Gorgeous home in a beautiful unspoilt area of Portugal that offered so much to new visitors. The beach was wonderful with great walks through the pine forest that backed onto it. Local towns of Caminha, Valenca and Ponte de Lima offered great days out as did a visit to the bustling huge market of Barcelos. We loved Viana do Castelo for wandering around the small shops and market and enjoying superb lunches next to the port. A great holiday in an area we would love to come back to - with the property offering everything you could need and more.

We spent a glorious week at Casa da Horta in June 2019. After a day of exploring the many sights, towns and villages nearby it is wonderful to return and relax in the beautiful grounds. There are numerous excellent restaurants and cafes in the area. Spain is very easy to get to by ferry or bridge. A Guarda, a small fishing village in Spain, is a great destination for lunch. Be sure to go to one of the restaurants on the harbour. This is the fourth time that we have booked with Vintage Travel. Their properties are always exactly as described.
We were very impressed with your service which was superb and we very much hope to use your company again in the future. Thank you for making it so easy for us!

Mr & Mrs Sutton, Solar da Montanha
Mesmerising scenery, irresistible food and wine, and a fascinating heritage are just a few reasons why France remains a favourite holiday destination for so many. We are pleased to feature properties in three regions across France, each unique in flavour and character.

In South West France, we focus on rural charm: swathes of orchards and vineyards punctuated by picturesque villages and châteaux. In the heart of Provence, backdrops of lavender and olive groves contrast with dramatic mountains and gorges, dotted with hilltop towns. On the Côte d’Azur, a wealth of cultural and coastal attractions can be enjoyed alongside the timeless allure of sleepy villages.
MARKETS
A vital feature of French life, the weekly market is a wonderful experience for visitors: colourful arrays of fresh produce, locally grown or reared, as well as sweet treats and typical dishes to try. More than this, the marketplace is an opportunity to meet local people and see the ‘real’ France.

FESTIVALS
Numerous fêtes and festivals take place throughout the year which are fun to be a part of, often involving cuisine or traditions unique to the area. Flower battles in the perfume town of Grasse, the theatre festival and ‘fringe’ street performances in Avignon, and medieval fairs in the bastide towns of South West France are just some of the amazingly diverse festivities that you may be able to enjoy during your stay.

THE HERITAGE OF SOUTH WEST FRANCE
Enviably for its cultural and historical breadth, the south west corner of France boasts Roman remains, Cathar fortresses, Renaissance cathedrals, fairytale châteaux and perfectly preserved medieval bastide towns. It is also a treasure trove for the arts, from prehistoric cave paintings to masterpieces by artists such as Toulouse-Lautrec.

THE CUISINE OF PROVENCE
Classic Mediterranean ingredients such as tomatoes and olives blended with aromatic herbs are the basis of many typical Provençal dishes. The fishy speciality ‘bouillabaisse’ is a must try, perhaps followed by goat’s cheese and honey, or an almond sweet. And the perfect accompaniment is a chilled glass of the local rosé!

THE COASTLINE OF THE CÔTE D’AZUR
From the dramatic red cliff scenery of the Esterel mountains to the glitter and bustle of Riviera towns such as St Tropez and Cannes, the Côte d’Azur will delight nature lovers and thrill seekers alike. Don’t miss strolling Nice’s famous Promenade des Anglais which runs the length of the bay, or driving one of the iconic Corniche roads with stunning views of the Mediterranean at each bend.

What an absolute delight it’s been to stay at Maison Fleurie! Why did we only book one week? What were we thinking? Many thanks to our generous hosts for their lovely house... Beyond the house, the area is also a joy – steeped in history with stunning views and great markets. We’re planning our next visit already.

Focussing on areas of great natural beauty and cultural wealth, our selection of properties covers central Italy, encompassing the vineyards of Tuscany and the rolling hills of Umbria, the blue-flagged beaches of Le Marche and the glory of the Eternal City, Rome, as well as the fascinating island of Sicily.

Yet we feel equal enjoyment can be had from simply becoming immersed in the Italian way of life: sipping a morning cappuccino in the square and watching the world go by, buying fresh market produce and tasting delicious homemade gelato, and joining the locals on their passaggata evening stroll through the streets.
THE CUISINE OF TUSCANY

Tuscan cuisine is characterised by fresh seasonal produce and locally reared meat, perhaps the most famous dish being ‘bistecca alla fiorentina’, a rare and flavourome T-bone steak. Olives are key ingredients, and truffles are often added to pasta dishes in season. Pecorino is Tuscany’s famous cheese, eaten fresh like ricotta or mature like parmesan.

THE HISTORY OF LAZIO

Rome is of course the mecca for those interested in Roman sites, as well as Renaissance treasures, but the wider region also offers much of interest. Northern Lazio was the heart of the Etruscan civilisation; at Tuscany, Etruscan remains still exist alongside medieval buildings, and the Etruscan museum and necropolis at Tarquinia are fascinating.

La Radura is a fantastic property – completely secluded, positioned up a mountain for incredible views and that ‘get away from it all’ feeling. This northern part of Tuscany is ideal if you like activities on the river/ mountains – or if you just want to laze around by the pool. Highly recommended.

L. Steavenson, La Radura, Tuscany

THE TOWNS OF LE MARCHE

Some of Le Marche’s gems are the picture postcard village of San Ginesio, art nouveau houses on the seafront at Porto Sant’Elpidio, Ascoli Piceno’s beautiful marble piazza, Jesi with its impressively intact city walls, and Tolentino where visitors can make use of the thermal baths as the Romans did in their day.

THE EVENTS OF UMBRIA

Among Umbria’s annual festivities are the Crossbow Palio in Gubbio, flag-waving and archery at Assisi’s medieval pageant, and the world famous jazz festival in Perugia. Lake Trasimeno also plays host to various events, including a kite festival in spring, then in July a boat race half on water, half on land!

THE VIBRANT, CAPTIVATING ISLAND OF SICILY

The largest island in the Mediterranean, Sicily boasts a diverse landscape from gorgeous beaches to mountains and volcanoes, 5 regional parks and 77 nature reserves. It is also a treasure trove of art and architecture, awash with history and legend, and the unique Sicilian culture and cuisine which draws visitors back again and again.
This delightful property is set in the hills above the Renaissance town of Lucca, among some of Tuscany’s most beloved historic villas and gardens, many open to visitors. A new bespoke build borne from the ruins of a medieval farm building, a sense of history pervades at Casa Milly, whose living spaces are peppered with European antiques and furnishings. A ground floor annexe with two bedrooms has its own entrance but is also connected to the main house which has four first floor bedrooms. Four reception rooms, five ample space for relaxation indoors, complemented by spacious lawned gardens surrounding a generous 14 metre pool. Lucca (5km) is a few minutes’ drive away for an evening meal or a bike ride around its iconic walls, and the beaches around Pisa and Viareggio are just half an hour by car.

We had the most peaceful and perfect holiday. The villa was beautiful with a fantastic location - wide open views across the valley but close enough to town to walk in. Wonderful pool. Thoroughly clean and beautiful villa. The owner was kind, helpful, friendly and generous. We intend to return.

Thank you to all.

L. Vincent, Casa Fonteluccia, Tuscany

The villa was all we had wished for and more: the views, the setting, the pool. Everyone in our party of 9 who were aged 10 months to 80yrs was pleased with our choice of villa. A wine tasting in a fabulous vineyard in Orvieto completed our visit to Italy.

CROATIA

ISTRIA  DUBROVNIK

Croatia is one of Europe’s hidden wonders. Over a thousand miles of beautiful coastline and a similar number of islands to match. Pick of the country for us are Istria in the north, Italianate and cone-shaped, and the Dubrovnik region at the very southern tip, a narrow ribbon of fertile terra magica flanked by jagged mountains to the east and the dazzling Adriatic to the west.

Different geographically, but similar in so many ways, Dubrovnik and Istria are rich in history, culture, architecture, cuisine, physical beauty and share the same alluring sea.
ENDURING TRADITION IN THE KONAVLE

Konavle’s national costume, especially that for women, has been preserved right up to the present day and assumes cultural significance for the Dubrovnik region. Decorated with sumptuous silk embroidery, produced locally, it’s best seen today at a Sunday folklore show of traditional songs and dances in the village of Čilipi.

CUISINE

Wherever you go in Croatia, good food is assured. It could be a village café in Istria serving focaccia of air-dried pršut (prosciutto); a Konavle konoba (country restaurant) serving slow cooked lamb under an iron lid, or a family-run winery that was producing quality wines long before they became fashionable.

We really enjoyed staying at Adriana and visiting the surrounding areas, which are fascinating. The villa is extremely well-looked after, and the hosts were friendly and helpful. We don’t usually return to the same villa, but in this case, we may make an exception.

DUBROVNIK’S CITY WALLS

A walk around the city’s mighty walls, up to six metres thick in places, with corners guarded by four forts is highly recommended to orientate yourself, absorb the atmosphere of the old town, and for some splendid, unique views. Go early for easy parking and to avoid the sun’s glare!

LANGUAGE IN ISTRIA

Istria is two borders away from Italy. Road signs are in Croatian and Italian: so Rovinj is Rovigno for example. In town, two words precede every street name, so ulica is via and trg is piazza. Most Istrians speak both Italian and Croatian but worry not, English is widely spoken too!

ROVINJ

Did we mention Rovinj? It’s a must-see gem, the old town a conical hill atop a pear-shaped promontory. Bobbing boats, yachts and ferries squeeze into the harbour whose quayside is lined with shuttered buildings in weathered pastel shades of terracotta, peach and mustard. An aesthetic orgy! Don’t forget your camera...

THE SETTING AND THE VIEW ARE STUNNING. THE OWNERS OF THE PROPERTY WERE LOVELY AND EXTREMELY HELPFUL. THEY REALLY COULDN’T DO ENOUGH FOR YOU. WE HAVE DECIDED TO DEFINITELY GO BACK AGAIN NEXT YEAR. WE DIDN’T VENTURE VERY FAR AS THE LOCALITY WAS SUCH A LOVELY AREA. ABSOLUTELY LOVED CROATIA.

The Sammons party, Duka, Dubrovnik
Greece is a land of sunshine and sand, mountains and myths, history and hospitality all presented in a glorious mêlée of colour and sound. Amongst pine-clad hills fringed by crystal-clear waters and sun-dappled olive groves, traditional family-run tavernas offer delicious meze; mouth-watering local appetisers, crisp refreshing wines and plenty of freshly caught seafood. It is a 21st Century delight to discover such places do, indeed, still exist in sleepy hamlets, scenic fishing villages and often at the waters’ edge of the many picture-postcard beaches.

Pack a picnic and explore the small ‘secret’ coves around Corfu and Kefalonia by boat; experience the rich history and unique flora and fauna of Crete; discover world class beaches in Lefkada; Ithacan myths and hidden Peloponnesian mysteries. Greece, a land of endless variety. A people of generous spirit.
LEFKADA – WORLD FAMOUS BEACHES

With easy access via a causeway and floating bridge, Lefkada remains one of the few Greek islands readily accessible by car. Chief among many charms must be the island’s wealth of wonderful beaches (including Porto Katsiki, Kathisma, Egremni and Nydri) some of which are considered not just amongst the best in Greece but worldwide! Diving, wind/kite surfing and first-class sailing are all on offer. inland, verdant hillslides secrete somnolent, tradition-strewn villages and historically important ruins of castles, temples and monasteries mingle amongst appealing seaside villages such as Vasiliki, Sivota and Agios Nikitas.

CRETAN CUISINE – THE HEALTHIEST IN THE WORLD?

Aubergines or courgette fritters, calamari stuffed with creamy local cheese, “Dakos” – simple rusk with pureed tomatoes and feta cheese, grilled fresh fish, and for dessert, lavender flavoured mountain honey, with thick Greek yoghurt. The Cretans’ longevity owes much to these seasonal dishes, so delicious and healthy; try everything and enjoy.

THE MANY AND VARIED BEACHES OF CORFU

The diverse coastlines of Corfu present vast swathes of sandy beaches in the south and west, and ‘secret’ coves and bays in the north east. Excellent sailing and water sports abound, and beachside tavernas tempt with leisurely lunches - part of the fun is discovering your favourite!

KEFALONIA’S COLOURFUL VILLAGES AND VINEYARDS

This large mountainous island is scattered with hamlets, settlements and villages over hills and dales. Pastel coloured houses adorned with bougainvillea, simple village shops and traditional tavernas remain timeless and charming. Famed for its vineyards, Ribolla, Gentili and Melata wineries offer wine tastings and tours of the vineyards.

THE PELOPONNESE – GENTLE UNSPOILT GREEK CHARM

It could be said that the Peloponnese has something for everyone: beautiful beaches, imposing mountains, unspoilt towns, villages and hamlets which appear to have stood still for decades, a wealth of historical sites, castles and fortresses and an abundance of wildlife, much of it indigenous to the region. Come for a week and you will wish you were staying for longer...

ITHACA – MYTHICAL AND MYSTICAL

A short hop across the water from Kefalonia, sleepy Ithaca is considered by many as the quintessential Greek island. Famous home to the mythological Odysseus, hero of the epic poem by Homer, this is an island of pine-clad hillsides, picturesque harbours, seafront villages and ‘secret’ coves. Wander along the trails, swim in some of the most crystal clear waters you will see anywhere in the Mediterranean and enjoy the freshest of seafood dishes in the laid-back local tavernas. Simple, charming and priceless pleasures all.

OUR HIGHLIGHTS

Perfect is how we’d sum up our first time in Kefalonia. Villa Aeletta was stunning - such tasteful decor and such an amazing location, with the views, the sunset and so close to so many delightful places to eat! We were delighted by the beauty of the island in general, but definitely made the right choice to stay in Maganos as there are so many stunning places and beaches within such a short drive. We loved exploring in the mornings and coming back to the pool for the afternoons.”

We had the most fantastic holiday, the villa was superb, so much so, we’ve already booked the same one for next year for 3 weeks. We love Kefalonia, and the villa location, for us, is absolutely perfect, 2 minutes from village of Maganos and a 30 minute drive to Fiscardo.

If you need to recharge the batteries and chill, this is the place! Fantastic!

Excellent service from Vintage Travel from start to finish. Traditional customer care which is difficult to find. Well done; please keep your impeccable standards.

For hundreds of years, travellers have been inspired to explore this fascinating island of dramatic landscapes, fabulous scenery, gorgeous beaches, sparkling blue seas, balmy climate and a colourful history. Being the third largest island in the Mediterranean, after Sicily and Sardinia, there are plenty of picturesque towns and villages, as well as many miles of coastline, to explore.

The birthplace of the legendary Aphrodite, Cyprus has a colourful history and has been ruled by many nations, including the Egyptians, Romans, Venetians, Turks and the British, to name a few. Each has left their own cultural mark on such influences as architecture, religion, cuisine and language which has evolved into a rich mix of traditions throughout the island. A further ingredient is a friendly and hospitable people proud of their inheritance.
From the high peak of Mount Olympus in the Troodos mountains to cool forests of pine and cedar, fertile plains (covered with banana plantations and orchards) to the dramatic coastlines with rugged cliffs descending steeply into the sea, alongside bays with soft, sandy beaches (many with a Blue Flag), Cyprus is an island of contrasts.

A FUSION OF FLAVOURS

The Cypriots consider their cuisine to be a fusion of Greek, Turkish and Middle Eastern flavours: a meal typically starts with ‘mezédhes’ – a platter of hot and cold dishes, accompanied by Cypriot bread and, of course, halloumi followed by lamb, pork, chicken or fish. Locally produced wines are always on offer and are of excellent quality (after all, the history of winemaking on the island can be traced back nearly 6000 years). Colourful platters of seasonal fruit, such as mango, guava, pomegranate, and oranges, always play a part in every meal.

KATO PAFOS

Awarded UNESCO World Heritage status, Kato Pafos (Lower Paphos) is an adventure playground for history lovers. Discover the medieval castle standing guard at the harbour, Roman villas with elaborate mosaic tiled floors, the Roman Odeon where summer concerts are still held and, slightly further out of town, the Tombs of the Kings, an extensive necropolis carved in soft sandstone.

EASTER CELEBRATIONS AND FESTIVALS

The biggest event in the Greek Orthodox calendar, ‘Pascha’ (Easter) is celebrated with exuberance by one and all in Cyprus, with processions, Mass and lots of eating and drinking. ‘Kataklysmos’ or the ‘Flood’ festival takes place in many of the coastal towns fifty days after the Orthodox Easter. Events include swimming galas and boat races, not forgetting the traditional custom of throwing water at each other! Throughout the summer, villages hold traditional festivals, often in homage to flowers or fruit, from oranges to roses. Opera concerts take place in front of Paphos Castle and September sees wine festivals, the largest taking place in Limassol.

THE CLIMATE

Spring is heralded with the appearance of colourful flowers in the meadows, the slopes of the hills turning green, the streams full of crystal-clear water and the days are warm and sunny. Summer brings high temperatures, lots of sunshine and lasts long into September and October. In fact, Cyprus has on average 11 hours of sunshine per day from April to October!

Sleeps 6 • 3 Bedrooms • 3 Bathrooms • Air Conditioning • WiFi • Beach 300m
At one end of Chrysochou Bay sits Pomos, a fishing village that retains a gentle pace of life and old world charm in an idyllic setting overlooking the sea and backed by the wooded slopes of Paphos Forest. Situated on the edge of the village (2km) and only 300m from Paradise beach, a quiet sandy cove with rock pools, Popi is a smart, contemporary villa with sea views. Two sets of sliding glass doors on the façade ensure these views can be enjoyed whether in the kitchen or relaxing on the sofa. Postide there is space for sunbathing and dining alfresco by the barbecues. Explore the bay area and discover traditional villages, a variety of beaches, crystal clear sea ideal for swimming and plenty of tavernas offering local dishes.

The village of Peristerona has a supermarket and a couple of tavernas with Polis offering a wider choice. A variety of beaches are within a 30 minute drive, including Latchi (13km) and Baths of Aphrodite (18km).

Exploring this vast country we became instantly enamoured with the beautiful Lycian Coast, which demonstrates all the qualities we cherish: unspoilt beaches, crystal clear waters, breathtaking scenery, fascinating local culture, charming towns, mouthwatering cuisine and a warm and welcoming people. The Kalkan area features the fine white sand beaches of Kaputas and Patara, just a short drive (or boat ride!) from the town itself. European and Asian cultures are evident in the vibrant boutiques and buildings lining the narrow cobbled streets, and reflected in the menus of the harbourfront restaurants. Kaş is a lively, bustling town, full of life all year round, nearby Islamlar sits on the lower slopes of the Taurus Mountains – a gentle oasis cooled by freshwater streams tumbling down to the sea below. Further west, Göcek and Fethiye offer yacht and boat hire and a wealth of restaurants.
Kalkan

BEACHES
Kaputas and Patara are two of the most stunning sandy beaches on the Lycian coast and both can be reached by water taxi from Kalkan. Patara is a designated national park characterised by dunes and marshes rich in birdlife, flora and fauna and is also a breeding ground for the endangered loggerhead turtle.

COUNTRYSIDE
Just inland and slightly above the coastline the terrain is dotted with gorges and streams cascading from the Taurus mountains; fertile valleys, lush vegetation, colourful wild flowers, fragrant herbs and birdlife, a haven of peace and tranquillity and a far cry from the hustle and bustle in the towns below. Also a great place for biking and hiking.

ANCIENT SITES
Carved high into cliff faces many well preserved Lycian Tombs can be seen throughout the area, one particularly good example being found at Myra. The UNESCO World Heritage site of Xanthos is of great archaeological significance as it also houses an amphitheatre and acropolis. On opposite sides of the Xanthos river valley Tlos and Pipnara were once two of the most important cities in ancient Lycia.

CUISINE
What a mix; the freshest of fish and meats, colourful fruits, plump vegetables, spices, nuts, and sweetmeats of honey, nuts and cinnamon – all will appear in some form on most menus. And no day is complete without a glass of Turkish tea, apple and mint being the most popular, or (not for the faint-hearted!) a strong coffee.

OUR HIGHLIGHTS
The villa was first rate, set in a beautiful and peaceful location with spectacular views. It was comfortable, well-equipped and particular highlights were the pool and garden. We would highly recommend it to others. Also noteworthy was the excellent support we received locally which was over and beyond anything we have experienced from Vintage before.
